Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 1 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

Note that filed claims 9-28 in paper Num. 10 have been re-numbered to be claims 11-30.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claim 10, drawn to a method of operating a bottling plant, classified in class 53, subclass 440.
- II. Claims 11-14, drawn to a bottling plant for bottling beverages, classified in class 53, subclass 266.1.
- III. Claims 15-18, drawn to a beverage container filling plant, classified in class 53, subclass 268.
- IV. Claims 19-26, drawn to a product stabilizing section for a beverage container filling plant, classified in class 53, subclass 264.
- IIV. Claim 27-30, drawn to a method for stabilizing sealed beverage containers, classified in class 53, subclass 426.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions Groups (I and IIV) and Groups (II-IV) are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus such as one with means for shipping pasteurized bottles and filling bottles in the bottle rinsing section and/or filling bottles in the bottle capping section.

Inventions Group IIV and Group I are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require to have a third portion configured to cool the product in containers by a third spray of liquid. The subcombination has separate utility such as a third portion configured to cool the product in containers by a third spray of liquid.

Inventions Groups III and IV and Group II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require to have a plurality of tanks being configured and disposed to supply the plurality of spray arrangements with liquid. The subcombination has separate utility such as a plurality of tank arrangements configured and disposed to maintain predetermined temperature conditions of liquid to stabilize the content of capped bottles.

Inventions Group IV and Group III are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require to have a conveyance apparatus configured and disposed to move containers in succession in a flow of containers from the inlet arrangement into the interior or the housing and from the interior of the housing out of the housing through the outlet arrangement of the housing. The subcombination has separate utility such as conveyance apparatus configured and disposed to move containers in succession in a flow of containers from the inlet arrangement into the interior or the housing and from the interior of the housing out of the housing through the outlet arrangement of the housing.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to Mr. Nils Ljungman on 4/8/2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Sameh H. Tawfik whose telephone number is (703) 308-2809. The examiner can normally be reached on Tuesday - Friday from 8:00 AM to 6:00 PM.
